

Job Grading: negotiation record and debrief

Day 3 · Session 3 | Both sectors | Shared resource

Bring your Job Grading brief and Session 2 preparation worksheet to this session — this page is used alongside them, during and after your live negotiation.

The Five Outcomes in Negotiation — Reminder from Day 2, Session 3

Scenario	Detail
A — Win-Lose	One side achieves its objectives fully; the other achieves essentially none of theirs
B — Lose-Win	The mirror image of A, from the other side's perspective
C — Lose-Lose	Both sides are worse off relative to their available alternatives. No agreement alone does not establish a lose-lose outcome
D — Compromise	Both sides get partial satisfaction, typically by splitting the difference
E — Win-Win	Both sides' underlying interests are substantially met, usually via a creative new option

Compromise and win-win are not the same thing. Compromise splits positions; win-win builds a new option that better serves both sides' actual interests. Don't call a compromise a win-win just because both sides accepted it — and don't treat a compromise as a disappointing result either.

Your Negotiation Record

Complete this during or immediately after your 35-minute negotiation.

Prompt	Your team's record
Did we reach agreement? (Y/N)
If yes, what was actually agreed?
Which scenario (A-E) did we reach?

Debrief Questions

Question	Your team's answer
Did we discuss underlying interests, or mainly trade positions?
What is one thing that most shaped how the negotiation went?
What would we do differently if we restarted, knowing what we know now?
